Cat's Curfew

By Patricia Hubbell

Call the Cats in!
Call the Cats in!
It's Halloween night,
So call your cats in!

If cats stay outside
They may beg for a ride
To the dark of the moon
On the old witch's broom!

They may sail up to Mars!
They may roam through the stars!
They may never come home!

They will fly with the bats
And wear masks and black hats.
They will learn to cast spells
And the future foretell.

They'll grow horrible fur!
They'll forget how to purr!
Weird, monsterish, and wild,
They will scare every child!

It's Halloween night, so
CALL YOUR CATS IN!
